

Sponsors for Educational Opportunities

KKR is proud to support SEO in advancing education and career opportunities for young people.

Since 2009, KKR has been an active partner of Sponsors for Educational Opportunities (SEO). SEO provides superior educational and career programs to young people from underserved communities to maximize their opportunities for college and career success.

At the beginning of our involvement, KKR helped to design and launch the Alternative Investments Fellowship Program. This program is geared toward increasing workplace diversity and is designed to provide a pathway to training and mentoring opportunities for talented young financial executives of color to increase their presence in the alternative investments field. More than 20 KKR executives are directly involved in the Fellowship Program, serving as monthly volunteers and regularly meeting with students. This is in addition to five KKR executives who currently serve as mentors to SEO students.

We have seen the power of the SEO model firsthand. We are proud that ten KKR executives are SEO alumni. Their contributions to the Firm remind us of the importance of investing in people at all points of their professional journey. We are proud to have been involved with SEO over the past four years and look forward to increasing our commitment in 2013.
